Referee Comment	"...had I have to say she was an excellent resource. The reason things fell apart with us was, she did not live in and hand family responsibilities. While I was on maternity leave all was fine because she left at 4pm. When I got back to work it became extremely stressful, I used to rush to get home by 5:30 and she used to be upset cause she was late." So I think it just wasn't a good match for me to have somebody who didn't live in.
